

4 Signs Your Inventory Management Solution is Drowning You

1

Is it accurate?

There is poor reconciliation capability / visibility across the major touchpoints like eCommerce, OMS, and ERP.

2

Can it scale?

The system can't support the performance required to scale ATP calls out to PDP pages.

3

What happened here?

They spend too much time chasing down root causes of over selling or underselling or diagnosing what inventory picture sourcing was looking at.

4

Are my sources of inventory data in synch?

They can't seem to line up synch jobs across the systems in a way where there is true "quiet" period with no noise occurring to allow accurate synchs.
